

SHEILY'S WORLDS

A free spoken word and arts festival for children, young people and families.

Hello Everyone! My name is Shelly and my story is about where I live, in the deep and magical ocean. I went on a journey with my friends and discovered the problems we face with all the horrible plastic that humans throw into our sea. In our story Charlie the dolphin ate plastic and got very, very poorly. We found our way to the Octopus's garden and learnt to "Say No To Plastic!" and if you "Do Use, Re-Use!"

Polly Brannan and Laurie Fitzgerald, the SPINE Festival 2020 artists have been working as artists in residence at Woolwich Library during March 2020. They worked with the library, community groups and schools to develop every aspect of the story, including props, storyboards, scripts, puppets, set design and the final mural in the children's library.

Shelly's World was created with Plumstead Brownies and Guides, Foxfield School Year 4 pupils, Woolwich Library Messy Morning and Story Time groups and young library members.
